AMENDMENTS TO THE ABSTRACT

Please replace the abstract with the following rewritten abstract:

-Abstract of the Disclosure

A method and system of media editing is provided. First, there are audio data with descriptors and visual data with descriptors. According to different types of associated audio descriptors, a different correlating process is selected for correlating the audio data and visual data with respective descriptors. According to a correlating solution found by the correlating process, the audio data and visual data with respective descriptors are adjusted to generate a media output in accordance with significant visual change or audio change.--
